

Participants

Debbie Pruim

Debbie is an advance nurse practitioner with specialties on geriatrics and corporate nursing. She also has served as director of parish nursing for Provena Health. Her faith background includes leadership positions and as a staff member of the Reformed Church. Debbie will give us tools to recognize and prevent burnout, and how to recover from burnout especially as it pertains to the work of the Church.

Alan Taylor

Alan is the Associate for Communications at St. James Cathedral where his primary functions are print production, scheduling, electronic and printed communications, and member record keeping. He has been a member of the cathedral and its choir since 2011 and has served as a member of the Cathedral Chapter and co-chair of the Stewardship Committee. Alan is a member of both the Chicago Symphony Chorus and Grant Park Chorus and performs frequently as a soloist throughout Chicago. He will assist us in evaluating the ways we communicate, from group interactions to email and newsletters and discuss the benefits of various types of communication for faith communities, their effectiveness and how to decide which forms will be most effective.

Catherine Belassie

Catherine is a staff member at St. Hugh of Lincoln, Elgin. She will be performing on harp during communion.

The Rev. Donald Frye
